Effective Appetite Suppressant

We've all been there... whether it's trying to shed a few lbs. or put a halt to that ever so strong chocolate craving... it can be a tough and uphill road. There's a million 'solutions' offered: pills, diet plans, tips and tricks, etc... the list is endless. Problem is, none seem to work too well... especially, if you go by the fact that the USA has now been dubbed the most 'obese' nation in the world!

There's some serious good news on winning this one! We've

...And It's FREE researched the claims, dug deep and have the facts! And.. you're not going to believe... It's FREE (costs nada, 0$'s).

So what is this magic concoction, secret recipe... unheard of (until now)? It's facts about your food that's going to gross you out so much, that your appetite will immediately be suspended. At any time you fall off the wagon and resort to that bag of chips or chocolate brownie - It's so simple to regain control... just re-read!

New Product: Vitamin D3 + K2 Partners for a Reason!

Vitamin D is known as the 'sunshine' vitamin and is most commonly associated with bone health... AND an alarming number of Americans... both young and old, men and women are Vitamin D deficient. Correcting this is easy, important to overall health and the reduction of disease risk. Taking supplements, eating certain foods and getting a tad of sunshine on skin not protected by sunscreen (this one is controversial and should be done with caution and moderation!) can all help increase your Vitamin D levels.

Vitamin D has two key 'bone' roles. One is to enhance the absorption of calcium (why Vitamin D is often paired with calcium in supplements). The other, perhaps lesser known but more important, is to make sure the amount of calcium in your blood is high enough to meet your body's demands. The problem is that Vitamin D is not very good at directing the calcium to your bones and teeth and not into your soft tissues (ie: kidneys and blood vessels). That's where Vitamin K comes in. Vitamin K activates proteins that promote the accumulation of calcium in your bones and teeth (a good thing) and prevents it from accumulating in your soft tissues (a bad thing).

Recently soft tissue and or-

Facts:

- 1. The FDA allows for a specific amount of 'non-hazardous, naturally occurring, unavoidable defects' in packaged foods. Definition of that: maggots, rodent hairs and insect parts.
2. You're probably consuming 1-2 pounds of things like flies, maggots and mites in your packaged foods - per year!
3. According to the FDA standards a lot of foods actually have maggots and other gross insects hiding in them. (ie: canned fruit juices ar allowed to contain 1 or more maggots for every 250ml, canned or drained mushrooms are allowed 20 or more maggots of any size per 100 grams).
4. Chocolate and chocolate liquor is allowed 60 or more insect fragments and 1 or more rodent hairs per 100 grams.

Now that you are in full gag mode, know that the FDA says these 'defects' pose no hazard to your health... that's right.. because you'll never eat them again!

gan calcification has received significant attention. It's a relatively new area of scientific study with much to be learned. However, we do know that hardened calcium deposits can cause issues in the brain and heart and that calcifications in blood vessels can lead to coronary heart disease.

Keeping calcium in your bones and teeth and out of your soft tissues and organs is the purpose for pairing Vitamins D & K together. It's the most noticeable change to our Vitamin D formula. This new formula is Non -GMO and also contains 2000 IU of Vitamin D as compared to 1000 in the old formula. Following science, not hype, provides better products... always Microbatched for freshness and 'Farm to Tablet' quality you can depend on!
